

The 2005 “101” Conference

All Things Native II

When: Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 30 to October 2

Where: YMCA Camp Kern (32 miles northeast of Cincinnati)

The 101 Conference is THE weekend outdoor education workshop experience designed to inspire teachers and outdoor educators with creative and fun ways to provide exciting learning experiences. Enjoy large and small group sessions, campfires, night hikes, good eating, and plenty more

Featured this year:

Fred Shaw, Principal Storyteller for the Shawnee Remnant Band, will be our Keynote Presenter both nights. On Friday Fred will present on how the Shawnee got to Ohio, the removal of the Shawnee and their survival today. Saturday night Fred will share the stories that have kept the Shawnee people and other native traditions alive.

“Make it and Take it,” an interdisciplinary, hands-on modeling of creative ways to have fun teaching the new state academic standards for classroom teachers as well as outdoor educators.

Carter and Connelley will perform a post-conference concert at Camp Kern Sunday afternoon. Carter and Connelley is a singer/songwriter duo that performs bluegrass to acoustic rock with spoken word interludes. There will be no additional cost; but donations will gladly be accepted.

An Ohio Department of Education representative, Becky Kennedy, will present on current Ohio academic standards and how they ably to hands on science and outdoor education.

Small Group Sessions that will focus on our unique resources, history, plants, animals, people, and opportunities. Topics will include: Native Plant Uses, American Indian Storytelling, Native American Tools and Simple Machines, Nature Hike, Kern’s Sun Serpent Effigies, Pictographs, Ohio’s Water Ride to the Past, Urban Critters, Aerodynamics, Native Animals Returning to Ohio, Pre vs. Post Pioneer Forests, Dutch Oven Cooking, Stress relief and Massage, Native American life at the point of European Contact.

The new Project WILD Science and Civics: This will be a pre-conference, day long workshop held Friday September 30th. The topic is sustaining wildlife curriculum and is geared toward teams of high school science and social studies teachers.

Cost: $71. Includes all sessions, food and lodging.

For more information, or to register, contact Dave Moran at YMCA Camp Kern.

1-800-255-5357 x1527, Local Phone: 513-932-3756 x1527

email: dmoran@daytonymca.org Address: 5291 St Rt 350 Oregonia, OH 45045

Web Site: www.campkern.org

The 2005 101 Conference Schedule

Friday Oct. 1

- 6:00 to 7:00 Registration
- 7:15 Welcome and Introductions
- 7:30 to 9:00 Fred Shaw: How the Shawnee got to Ohio, the removal of the Shawnee and their survival today
- 9:15 Campfire and Snack

Saturday Oct. 2

- 7:00 Bird Hike with Paul Knoop
- 8:00 Breakfast
- 9:15 – 10:45 Small Group Session I
- 11:00 - 11:45 An Ohio Department of Education representative, Becky Kennedy, presents on current Ohio academic standards and how they ably to hands on science and outdoor education.
- 12:00 Lunch
- 1:15 to 2:45 Small Group Session II
- 3:00 to 4:30 Small Group Session III
- 4:30 “Make it and Take it,” an interdisciplinary, hands-on modeling of creative ways to have fun teaching the new state academic standards for classroom teachers as well as outdoor educators.
- 5:30 Dinner
- 7:00 Fred Shaw: Stories that have kept the Shawnee people and traditions alive.
- 8:30 Campfire and Open Stage Songs/ Story Telling. Jim Viles, Master of Ceremonies
- 9:15 Snack

Sunday Oct. 3

- 7:00 Bird Hike (Meet at Singerman Lodge)
- 7:30 Light Breakfast
- 8:00 Chapel
- 9:00 to 10:30 Small Group Session IV
- 10:45 Brunch and Goodbyes
- Noon – 3:00 Post-Conference Activities: Fort Ancient Hike or Canoe Trip on the Little Miami River
- 3:15 Carter and Connelley Concert